MURDERERS OF SHERIFF CHAVEZ DIE.

Were Members of a League Known as the "Button Gang"—Reprieved by Presidents Cleveland and McKinley. But Came to Their Death at Last.

SANTA FE, N. M., April 3.—Francisco Gonzales y Borrego, Antonio Gonzales y Borrego, Sauriano Alarid and Patricio Valencia, condemned to death for the murder of ex-Sheriff Frank Chavez, who was killed from ambush on the night of May 29, 1892, were hanged together on one scaffold at 9:10 o'clock yesterday morning.

The four men were perfectly stolid at the close. There was no sign of disturbance, the authorities having taken extra precautions and militia being stationed about the jail.

The murderers were to have been hanged February 23, but President Cleveland granted a respite for thirty days. Then President McKinley granted a further respite until yesterday. Thursday he refused to interfere any further, and so telegraphed to Governor Thornton.

Numerous plots for the rescue of the prisoners were thwarted by the vigilance of the territorial authorities, and a military guard was stationed at the jail for some time under orders from Governor Thornton.

KILLED BY A DOCTOR.

Fatal Tragedy in the Parlor of a Kansas City Hotel.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 3.—Dr. Jefferson D. Goddard, a druggist at 501 Independence avenue, shot and instantly killed Frank J. Dr. Goddard had been in attendance upon Mrs. Jackson, who is ill with pneumonia. He is a single man and Jackson was jealous of him. It is said Jackson had warned Goddard away from his home.

The murder was committed in Mrs. Jackson's rooms at the hotel, which has been the home of Mrs. Jackson and her four daughters since last October. Dr. Goddard was manager of a drug store owned by Mrs. Jackson. The latter was also owner of the laundry and paid her husband a salary, or gave him his living expenses and spending money each week. Jackson was a morphia eater and sometimes drank to excess.

J. B. McMahon Fatally Wounded at Wichita in a Row With an Officer.

WICHITA, Kan., April 3.—Joseph B. McMahon, owner of McMahon's circus, was shot and fatally wounded at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by J. P. Cunningham of Abilene, Texas, deputy sheriff of Taylor county. The shooting occurred in the office of the Manhattan hotel and the trouble arose over the arrest of one Purdy, of the circus performers, on the charge of burning the Windsor hotel in Abilene, Tex., last month.

The authorities here arrested Purdy on a telegraphic description furnished by the sheriff of Taylor county and the deputy was here awaiting requisition papers for Purdy. McMahon sent a friend to Cunningham's room in the hotel and requested an interview with him. The men became angry and excited, and McMahon began calling Cunningham vile names. It ended in both men drawing their revolvers and firing at each other. The Texas man was the quicker and he shot McMahon in the abdomen.

TARIFF BILL PASSED.

Five Democrats Vote With the Republicans—Goes Into Effect April 1.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—With this morning the duties imposed by the Dingley tariff bill went into force and the present law is a thing of the past. If the last amendment attached to the bill before its passage in the House yesterday, fixing to-day as the day on which its provisions shall go into effect, should be in the bill when it is finally enacted and should be held to be legal by the courts.

The vote on the final passage of the bill stood: Ayes, 205; nays, 122; present and not voting, 21; a majority of 83.

The vote on the amendment fixing April 1 as the date on which the bill was to go into effect was taken and it was adopted, 150 to 120.

The bill was then passed. Five Democrats—Messrs. Meyer, Klossard and Davey, of Louisiana, and Kleburg and Slayden, of Texas, voted with the majority.

One of the features of the closing hour of the debate was a brief speech by Mr. White, Republican, of North Carolina, the only colored man in the house, in commendation of the bill. In the name of 9,000,000 of his race, 90 per cent of whom were laborers, he endorsed the bill.

DISASTROUS FLOODS.

WHOLE COUNTIES ARE UNDER WATER.

The Larger Part of Greenville, Miss., the Principal Town of the Section, Inundated at Last—The River Fifty Miles Wide—General Flood Damage.

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 3.—Just when the 10,000 people of this place, the business center of this section of Mississippi, were beginning to hope that the town would escape inundation, waters from crevasses to the north swept down upon the place and soon it was necessary to abandon the northern portion, of which the population was over 5,000. Efforts were made to form a levee to protect the business section, but before anything could be done the water had driven the workmen back, and last night it was within three blocks of the main business street. People in the path of the flood had been warned in time and, as the water came without any rush, there was ample time for all to escape and also to save most of their valuables. Boats of all kinds were soon in demand and carpenters alone were prosperous. The railroad embankment which shut off the flow of water out of town was blown up last night. The waterworks building was made ready for a watery siege and a high embankment was raised about the Planters' cotton mill in which was stored cotton seed worth $500,000. All night long by the aid of electric lights workmen by the hundreds worked to form embankments about the business section, but people in the submerged sections threaten to destroy it. All railroad trains have been abandoned.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 3.—The general flood situation in this section is somewhat better, the crevasses below here having done their worst. The feeling at Helena, Ark., and other points which have escaped so far is much more hopeful. The damage to the farming country in the Yazoo delta of Mississippi cannot, however, be exaggerated. Nearly all of five prosperous counties are under water and thousands on thousands of people are homeless and in want. Among the towns now under water are Gunnison, Rosedale, Perthshire, Terrene, Phalia, Riverdale, Dahomey, Storm, Benoit, Beulah, Wayside, Longwood, Refuge, Swiftwater, Deerson, and Australia. The water covers a territory fifty miles wide on the average. The river above here is falling and the worst has passed.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 3.—Reports from all parts of Eastern Missouri, Central and Southern Illinois and Iowa tell of high waters and flood damage. The losses at various places are estimated at $250,000.

TRENTON, Mo., April 3.—The heavy rains that have fallen in the last two days have caused Grand river to rise and overflow its banks. In the last twenty-four hours, the water has risen nearly ten feet and south of the town the river is over a mile wide, covering the bottoms and causing families living in that district to move to town.

During the cannonade three Turks were killed and five wounded.

TWELVE DEAD.

First Chandler Cyclone Reports Overdrawn—Freaks of the Storm.

GUTHRIE, Okla., April 3.—The total death list so far at Chandler from Tuesday's tornado is twelve and it is now believed that no more bodies will be found in the ruins. The dead were buried yesterday afternoon. The injured are generally doing well and it is possible that none of them will succumb.

The only building in Chandler upon which there was tornado insurance was the court house, which was insured for $1,000.

There would have been great suffering at Chandler had the weather been inclement, as no definite plan of relief was enforced until yesterday afternoon, it seeming impossible for the people to thoroughly organize themselves. The injured and dead were cared for, but it was the work of a few. There was no bureau of information and those trying to restore order were scattered. A relief corps of Guthrie women reached Chandler yesterday afternoon and did much to systemize the nursing of the injured.

Money is being sent from all parts of the territory and surrounding states. The cash gifts from Guthrie reached $2,000 this morning.

The question of whether the town shall be rebuilt upon its present site is being discussed. There are absolutely no facilities for the transaction of ordinary business, and everything is at a standstill. Many persons fear to rebuild on the hill.

The tornado played strange freaks with women's clothing. All of the clothing of one woman who was caught on the street, except the underwear, was stripped off. There were several instances where every stitch of clothing was torn from the bodies of women.

FATAL FIRE AT RICHMOND.

Kernan was an old citizen of Richmond, but Anderson was a stranger. Both men had been dissipating the night before, and did not retire until late.

SENATE WILL MODIFY IT.

Changes Likely in Many Schedules of the Dingley Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The Republican members of the Senate committee on finance are continuing their work day and night on the tariff bill, with the intention of reporting it to the Senate at the earliest possible day. There is a well defined impression about the Senate that the bill will be generally remodelled, and the rates considerably reduced in many of the schedules.

Dun's Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Dun's weekly review of trade says: The markets are still waiting, some sagging downward and others recovering. The vote of the House in favor of a new tariff bill has made no impression in business, since it has been expected since November that some measure of the same general character would become a law. If the bill stands, with its provisions making new duties applicable April 1, chances are that foreign imports and treasury receipts may be for a time considerably restricted.

CONGRESSIONAL.

April 1.—The Cuban question was revived in the Senate after a long period of comparative calm. Four distinct Cuban resolutions were brought forward in rapid succession. The last and most important one came from Senator Morgan of Alabama. It declares that a state of war exists in Cuba and announces the policy of the United States to accord with both parties to the conflict with full recognition as belligerents. Mr. Morgan gave notice that he would call up the resolution at the next meeting of the Senate with the expectation of securing final action. Of the other resolutions, two were agreed to. One of these, by Mr. Morgan, calls on the President for the letters of General Gomez to himself and Mr. Cleveland and for other information on Cuban affairs. The other by Mr. Morgan of Texas, instructs the committee on foreign relations to report what obligations the United States has assumed by compelling Cuba to remain subject to Spain. Both resolutions were passed without opposition. Mr. Allen of Nebraska offered a resolution protesting against the execution of General Rivera by a Spanish drum-head court martial. The resolution went over on objection from Mr. Hoar.

March 30.—Party feeling ran high during the last day of the tariff debate in the House. Political speeches were wedged in every opportunity, and there was constant maneuvering for political advantage. The ways and means committee held the floor with their amendments from 10 in the morning to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. About thirty-five were offered and adopted. Among them was one admitting free of duty books, scientific apparatus, charts, maps, etc., for scientific and educational purposes. After that five more pages of the bill were read, making twenty pages in all of the 169 pages of the bill.

Senator Allen, Populist of Nebraska, made a speech in the Senate on the unconstitutionality of tariff taxes beyond those requisite for revenue. Mr. Allen severely criticised the trusts and combines which, he declared, reaped the main advantage of tariff taxes. The senator's remarks were in the nature of a legal argument showing the constitutional limitations of the taxing power of Congress. The House amendments to the Senate joint resolution appropriating $250,000 for the relief of life and property along the Mississippi river were agreed to and the resolution now goes to the President.

March 29.—This was by far the most exciting day the House has witnessed since the tariff debate began. The proceedings throughout were of a lively order and several times bordered on the sensational. The Democrats blocked proceedings for over an hour by demanding the presence of a quorum before allowing any legislative work. Mr. Bland spoke for free silver and Mr. Simpson of Kansas read a long statement which he said defined the position of the Democrats toward the tariff. It stated in effect that the tariff had been the football of politics for a century, and that the Populists had no faith in the ability of either the Republican or Democratic tariff law to remedy the evils of the existing gold standard. Mr. McCall, the first Republican to slap the bill in the face. He boldly expressed the opinion that the duties the bill were too high. He especially mentioned wool. Mr. Lovering, Republican of Massachusetts, a large manufacturer, followed Mr. McCall's lead and again aroused the passions of the opposition by declaring that the manufacturers of New England did not want the duties in the cotton and woolen schedules in the bill, neither the compensatory nor the straight duties. "We want a tariff law that will live and stand," said he. "We do not want to be strangled with free trade; neither do we want to be smothered with protection."

Before turning to the arbitration treaty, the Senate gave an hour to routine business in session. Mr. Hoar reported favorably the bill to prevent kinetoscope exhibitions of prize fights in the District of Columbia and the territories, and to prohibit the shipping of material for the exhibition.

March 27.—The progress of the House on the tariff bill was even slower to-day than yesterday. Only five more pages of the 162 pages of the bill were disposed of, making fourteen pages in all in the two of the five days allowed for consideration under the five minute rule. Only six amendments were adopted, all of minor importance, and each an amendment of the ways and means committee. All the questions involved in the tariff, with occasional incursions into the realm of the financial theories, furnished fruitful topics for discussion. In the discussion of whether the foreigner or the consumer pays the tax, Mr. Simpson of Kansas spoke for a duty on hides.

Bill to Permit Pooling.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Senator Foraker, of Ohio, has introduced a pooling bill. It is practically a reproduction of the Patterson bill introduced in the last Congress.
